Recycling will increase costs City facing decision time

By Bob Slate

Staff writer

Granite City officials have exactly two weeks to make some important decisions about how residents will recycle.

And whatever decision they make, city residents will likely end up paying more for trash collection.

Joe Parente, administrator of Madison County's Building, Zoning and Environmental department, told the city council's Sanitation Committee Thursday night that the county expects all residents to be recycling by July 1.

Madison County is in the process of distributing more than 60,000 blue recycling bins to residents. A colorful recycling plan, was also mailed to county residents late last week.

The county plan was enacted by ordinance in response to a state mandate that all counties recycle 25 percent of the waste stream by that date.

"We don't want to turn into garbage cops," Parente said. "If residents set out their blue container every other week or so, we feel we'll be in compliance. We don't expect 100 percent participation."

If residents don't occasionally set out recyclables, Parente said, they will get a friendly reminder from the county that recycling is required by law. The county plan is less friendly to trash hauling companies. The ordinance allows the county to pull the trash hauling licenses of any company that collects bags of garbage that are known to contain recyclables.

The city's problem is its garbage contract with Waste Management, set to expire Aug. 31, contains no provision for picking up recyclables. Dan Hannah of Waste Management told aldermen Thursday night that recycling will cost Granite City as much as $3.50 per household per month for the two-month period of July and August.

Woman celebrating 100th birthday

"Granite City is 100 years old this year and so is Carolyn Stearns. The city's official birthday was March 9. But there will be a huge celebration on Stearns' 100th birthday, July 6, followed by a fireworks display.

"I'm almost blind, I'm almost deaf, I'm almost everything. I don't do (much) anymore but a lot of talking," she said.

But don't let her fool you. Stearns is still a sharp woman who can talk for hours from her memories of past experiences.

She attributes her longevity to keeping herself busy during her younger years.

"A lot of these people they don't have their mind filled up with enough things," she said.

"I have been in all kinds of things and I've taken care of myself from the time I was a young girl. And I've kept on exercising."

Stearns was active in local garden clubs, Eastern Star and volunteered for the Red Cross during World War II.

She and her husband, George, moved to Nameoki in 1926. George Stearns owned the Maryland Real Estate and Insurance Co. and eventually developed eight

EPA: Lead study is inconclusive

By Bob Slate

Staff writer

The manager of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's lead cleanup project in Granite City says a recent scientific study of recontamination in the project area does not contain enough data to draw any conclusions about the effectiveness of the cleanup plan.

But city officials say Brad Bradley, project manager, and other EPA officials are ignoring a serious health hazard in the community.

Bradley sent out a letter this week to Granite City residents addressing the conclusions of a University of Cincinnati study of recontamination at 38 properties where EPA's contractors had already "cleaned" lead-contaminated soil.

"EPA does have some concerns on the quality of the study," the letter states.

The study found that more than half of the homes had higher levels of house dust lead than before the cleanup and that many of the yards had become recontaminated within a couple of years.

The study concluded that sources other than contaminated soil contribute to lead problems and removal of soil with low levels of contamination alone will not reduce health risks.

Although the study looked at more than 30 of the 38 properties, Bradley said the conclusions about house dust contamination were based on only five homes — three of which showed higher levels of lead than before the cleanup and two of which showed lower levels. He said fluctuations in house dust can be expected but that dust levels should decrease over time once contaminated soil is removed.

"Because the study looked at only five homes, it cannot be used to make a meaningful statement about all the cleaned homes and alleys," Bradley said. "EPA's position is that soil lead cleanups are an effective strategy to remove environmental lead contamination."

Alderman Craig Tarpoiff said Bradley's analysis misrepresents the data set used in the study.

He called Bradley's position "foolish" and "dangerous."

"The EPA should show some concern not with the quality of the study, but with the quality of the work they do and what they're accomplishing," Tarpoiff said.

'He's my favorite dad'

As another Father's Day arrives, many people are taking time to say thanks to — or remember — that special man in their life. Earlier this month, students at the Tri-City park Child Development Center were given a chance to write short essays on "Why I think my dad is special."

Following are some of the essays:

"He plays with me a lot. He buys me toys and other things. He loves me."

Asbestos case called important

High court lets ruling stand

A Granite City attorney says last week's refusal by the U.S. Supreme Court to hear an appeal of four Madison County jury verdicts in asbestosis cases totaling $10 million sends a message to companies about product liability and punitive damages.

"I think (the court's refusal) is telling companies that thought that BMW was the end of punitive damages that they were wrong," said Mark Goldenberg, a partner in the law firm of Hopkins, Goldenberg and Billeby who represented the plaintiffs in the asbestosis cases.

The BMW reference is to a recent Supreme Court decision rejecting $4 million in punitive damages initially awarded to an Alabama podiatrist whose automobile was scratched during shipment.

BMW had touched up the scratched paint, but failed to disclose that to the buyer — a violation of Alabama law. A jury had awarded the foot doctor $400 in compensatory damages and $4 million in punitive damages before an appeals court reduced punitive damages to $2 million. The high court later rejected the punitive damages.

In the local asbestosis case, Owens-Corning Fiberglass — manufacturer of asbestos-containing products to which the plaintiffs were exposed — asked the high court to reject four April 1992 asbestosis verdicts totaling more than $10 million. The four plaintiffs were Madison County residents, employees of Clark Oil Refinery in Harford.

Two of the four plaintiffs have died. One, a prominent Wood River union official and civic leader, died of asbestosis prior to trial. Another plaintiff died after the initial trial.

Of the $10 million verdicts, about $7.5 million was for punitive damages.

"By refusing to hear OCF's appeal, I think the court was sending a message that punitive damages are appropriate in some cases," Goldenberg said.

He said he was "ecstatic" for the plaintiffs and their families.

The Hopkins, Goldenberg and Billeby law firm represents about 2,500 asbestosis

Jackson may speak at safety rally

The organizer of a national firearms safety rally to be held in Alton in September said at least two prominent personalities confirmed they'll speak at the event.

The Rev. Jesse Jackson and U.S. Secretary of Treasury Robert Rubin have reportedly accepted invitations to attend the Sept. 7 rally in Riverfront Park.

Executive director of Safety and Firearms Education, "We're going to have some real dynamic speakers," Cashman said at a press conference Wednesday.

However, the announcement may be premature. A Ruben spokesperson said Wednesday afternoon that Ruben received the invitation but has not decided whether to participate.

A Jackson spokesperson could not be reached for comment. Cashman said he is pulling for President Clinton to make the rally a stop on his campaign trail, but that visit has also not been confirmed.

U.S. Secretary of Education Richard Riley, U.S. Attorney General Janet Reno and Clinton's drug czar Gen. Barry McCaffrey have also been invited to attend. Cashman said McCaffrey has accepted the invitation.

Cashman said he will make a trip to Washington, D.C., on June 27 to announce the rally with members of Clinton's Cabinet.

St. Louis Cardinal Brian Jordan and several local officials have confirmed their attendance.

Cashman described the "Safe Schools, Safe Streets: Mission Possible" rally as a "time to reflect and come together as one nation under God." The rally will be held at Riverfront Park and Cashman anticipates more than 50,000 participants.

"It's a worthwhile event that will put this city on the map," Jones said.

That figure translates into $73,500 for recycling services for a two-month period.

Hannah said that could be reduced to $1.25 per household if the city would approve a three-year hauling contract extension with Waste Management. That figure would be for the life of the contract extension.

Although the city pays Waste Management $7.71 per month per house for garbage collection now, residents pay only a $6 fee to the city. The city makes up the difference, more than $215,000 a year — with revenue derived from other sources.

With 10,500 residences, the $1.25 recycling figure would mean an additional $157,500 a year in costs that either the city or its residents would have to make up.

City officials said that the city cannot afford to continue to subsidize garbage pickup — especially with the added charge for recycling. If the city decides to continue to bill for trash, officials said, then some revenue source — most likely a fee increase — is needed to offset the cost.

City Comptroller K.P. MacTaggart said many of the aldermen want the city to get out of the trash billing business. Under such a plan, the city could either sign an extension with Waste Management or let the company bill residents directly or the city would seek competitive bids from several waste haulers, choose the best bid and let that company bill residents.

Garbage collection is much less expensive for residents when a municipality contracts for services than if each individual homeowner seeks his own deal.

MacTaggart said it would be wise for the city to seek competitive bids if the aldermen decide the city will stop billing for garbage.

In any of the three scenarios continued city billing, an extension with Waste Management or a competitively bid contract — the cost of garbage disposal is likely to increase for city residents.

City officials must make a decision quickly; the July 1 deadline is only two weeks away.

Alderman Casmer Skubish — always a vocal opponent of unfunded mandates — questioned the county's authority to force residents to recycle.

"We've got to be concerned about every dollar," Skubish said. "It looks like the county is doing to the cities what the state has been doing to the counties and what the federal government has been doing to the states."

Parente said two Attorney General opinions support the county's authority to enforce its recycling ordinance.

"Still, the courts would have to render a decision on whether it is constitutional to force residents to do something with their possessions," Skubish said.

While city leaders are still considering a proposal to utilize a mixed waste processing facility — meaning residents would not have to separate recyclables from other garbage — that facility is not expected to be in operation for at least two years.

"How do they explain a midyear composite (of samples) with 4,200 parts per million lead in a yard they had already cleaned? How do they explain street and driveway dust composites as high as 30,000 parts per million? How do they explain dustfall concentrations of over 60,000 parts per million — all in areas they allegedly cleaned?" Tarpo asked. "Is the EPA concerned about that? They should be. I am."

Bradley said he was in fact concerned about a yard where samples showed lead concentration at 4,200 parts per million. But, he said, EPA testing showed levels of 120-200 parts per million.

"We're still of the opinion that soil is the main contributor near the smelter and that other factors — such as paint — become factors further out," Bradley said.

"I think, paint or something that contains a high concentration of lead gets into the samples. Sometimes, when you have a high reading like that, I can't understand it," Bradley said.

Although EPA believes soil is the primary contaminant, the agency is doing all it can to remove other lead sources, Bradley said. For example, the agency paved a truck parking lot that was a source of lead dust and has provided a high-powered vacuum for residents to remove lead dust.

"And we hope to be able to address paint stabilization — even though there is no Superfund funding for it," Bradley said.

EPA will hold a series of public information meetings early next week to address residents' concerns.

Meetings will be held in Wesley Hall at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, June 24, and 9 to 11 a.m. Tuesday, June 25.

"Because the city of Granite City recently sent EPA a letter demanding that EPA cease and desist the cleanup of residential properties in Granite City, we will be accepting official public comments on this demand," Bradley said.

Assistant City Attorney Ed Fitzhenry, who filed suit against the EPA last week seeking a temporary restraining order and injunction against the agency, called the EPA meetings on city policy "ludicrous."

"What right does U.S. EPA have to interfere with the city's right to govern?" Fitzhenry asked. "They have no such right. It is an unlawful usurpation of governmental authority and it is inappropriate to ask for public comments on decisions made by a city administration elected by the public."

Collinsville may annex Cahokia Mounds tract

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

The city of Collinsville is considering annexing a majority of the Cahokia Mounds state historic site.

During its regular meeting Monday night, the Collinsville City Council started a public hearing on the proposed annexation of the Mounds but continued it until June 24.

The hearing was continued while officials check to see if three parcels of property along U.S. 40 are in fact privately owned.

The hearing culminates three years of effort to get 861 acres — or about half of the state-owned property — into the city.

Cahokia Mounds is in an unincorporated area west of Collinsville.

The property to be annexed includes both the Interpretive Center and Monk's Mound, Director of Economic Development Tim Pickering said.

Pickering said that the advantages to the city include: having a World Heritage site within its limits; creating a natural western boundary; putting the city limits within 5 miles of the Gateway Arch; and revenues from water service and taxes from Cahokia Mounds gift shop sales.

Water service is one of the key elements behind the annexation, said Mounds volunteer

Lina Williams of Collinsville.

"We have to tell people that they can't get a drink of water because we're on a boil order," Williams said. "It's embarrassing. They can't even get a cup of coffee."

Pickering cited the disadvantages as opposition from surrounding areas, possible legal challenges, and longer response time for police and fire calls.

The fire calls are a concern of the State Park Fire Protection District which currently provides service to Cahokia Mounds.

Rodney Redmond, president of the Fire District, attended Monday night's hearing and said he opposed the annexation. He then turned matters over to his attorney, Bob Mateosian.

While the proposed agreement would allow the State Park Fire Protection District to continue to collect its $1,200 in annual fees from Cahokia Mounds, Mateosian said that money is not the only problem the fire district would have.

"Collinsville is going to get this piece of property and keep annexing and annexing," Mateosian said.

Pickering said that the city is willing to sit down with State Park fire officials to discuss an inter-governmental agreement. As for annexing State Park Place, Pickering said that is a "separate issue" that has no part in this annexation.

How to recognize and treat Lawn Problems

Tips from the experts at

FRANK'S[®]

NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

Mowing the lawn actually serves two purposes, the first one's obvious. But it also gives you a chance to examine your entire yard up close. It's much like when you wax the car and discover those minor imperfections you never knew existed.

What do you see while you're mowing? Probably an area or two that sort of bothers you. "Yeah, I'll have to get to that bad spot some day." Sound familiar? But the problem can be this: you know the spot needs attention but don't know what's wrong with it. We'll try to help.

We'll start with mowing, since we're on the subject. A great many folks mow simply because it's Saturday. If a spot gets missed, it'll get cut next week. But if a great-looking lawn is your goal, proper mowing is a must. A properly-groomed lawn is better able to resist insects, diseases and weeds.

Mow when the grass grows to a third of its recommended height. If you're not sure of the recommended height for your lawn grass, ask one of Frank's experts.

Mushrooms can sprout up in lawns now and then. Most won't damage the lawn, but they don't do much to improve its looks. They're caused by organic matter buried in the soil; stumps, lumber, etc. About all you can do is rake 'em away and console yourself with the thought that once all the underground stuff decays completely, the mushrooms won't be around. At any rate, don't eat the mushrooms! Many are poisonous, and it takes a knowledgeable person to tell them apart.

If you see any pale yellow spots that seem to be overrun with clover, chances are the problem is a lack of fertilization. Fertilize at the right time, with the correct product and amount, and you should see an improvement.

If your lawn takes on a whitish cast when viewed from a distance, examine a few grass blades up close. Are the tops ripped and shredded? If so, a dull mower blade is the culprit. It's amazing the difference a sharp blade can make.

Here's a scene that's fairly common. Clumps of coarse, tough grass invade thin areas of your lawn. The blades are ribbed on the top and smooth on the bottom. Tall fescue is what it is, and you can get rid of it by using a systemic weed and grass killer while it's actively growing. Use it with caution, however, since it will kill the good grass as well.

You can go a long way toward keeping your lawn beautiful by exercising care when using a spreader. Improper use can cause excessive amounts of fertilizer in some areas, and it'll burn the lawn. Be careful when turning the spreader or backing up.

Always move the mower off the lawn during refueling. Spilled gasoline will kill the grass.

Dog owners have lawn problems all their own. When dogs do what they're trained to do on the lawn, the lawn can suffer varying degrees of damage, from a slight discoloration to total destruction, easily recognizable by the yellow spots on the grass. Lawns are more susceptible in hot, dry weather. Thoroughly hosing the area as soon as possible can reduce the damage to the point where surrounding grass can fill it in, but there's no perfect remedy.

There are numerous problems a lawn can encounter, many more than space permits here. But we hope we've covered the more common ones.

SIU budget includes raises

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees passed a $509.8 million budget Thursday which includes a 3 percent pay raise for nonunion workers.

Included are pay increases for President Ted Sanders and SIU-Edwardsville Chancellor Nancy Belch. Effective July 1, Sanders' salary will rise from $180,000 to $184,800. Belch's salary will increase from $117,072 to $120,588.

In all, a total of almost $6.6 million in raises were approved.

SIU-Carbondale Chancellor John Guyon, who has suffered heart problems, is retiring Aug. 16 and did not receive a raise. Officials named him chancellor emeritus at the meeting in honor of 23 years with the university. Guyon will continue on special projects.

Sanders, Belch and Guyon also received an $18,000 housing allotment each.

At the meeting, Sanders praised board members for the budget they produced after meeting for two days at a retreat in May and then concluding work Wednesday.

"The budget was of much higher quality than I thought was humanly possible," Sanders said.

Sanders said he was disappointed that during the past legislative session there were no appropriations for capital improvements, putting construction of SIUE's engineering building and renovations in Carbondale on hold.

Included in the budget are stipulations for changing line items in the budget so officials can closer watch spending.

75 workshops offered

College for Kids opens

By Rosemary Hicks
Staff writer

Area youths are leaving grade school this spring and entering college this summer.

For the fifth year, Belleville Area College is offering its College for Kids program.

Classes ranging from computers to horseback riding are offered from June 17 to July 26. More than 75 different workshops at the three BAC campuses make up this open enrollment summer educational enrichment program. It offers children from kindergarten through the eighth grade unique and challenging workshops to increase their knowledge, as well as give them an experience they will never forget.

"These classes are meant to give the children a different type of learning experience," said Yvonne Willis, assistant director of non-traditional programs. "They can learn and still have a little fun. The main thrust of the program is that this is not summer school; this is a positive learning experience where kids can have a little fun."

Fees for the workshops vary and include most of the supplies needed for the course.

Parents are invited, but not required, to join in some of the workshops with their children. Some classes are designated parent/child courses.

Computer classes offered at Central Junior High School in Belleville include:

- Math Computer Camp—learn basic math, graphing, time, money, patterns and measuring.

- Jurassic Art—children will use dinosaur clip art to learn the basics of desktop publishing and computer-aided drawing.

- Mario Teaches Typing—this software package uses Mario of the Mario Brothers video game to teach kids how to use a computer keyboard.

Classes are also being offered at the Granite City and Red Bud campuses. At Granite City children can learn about acting, art, football and sign language. Red Bud is offering courses called Medieval Magic, Food Facts and Beyond the Stars.

Registration for courses is going on now. For more information about courses being offered or to register, call 235-2700, extension 393, or 1-800-BAC-5131, extension 393.

Dupo class plans reunion July 20

The 1951 class of Dupo High School will have a 45th reunion July 20 at the Holiday Inn, Butler Hill Road in St. Louis. Information is needed on classmates Carleean Baggett, Alice Bounds Boyce, Marion Hayden Kraft, Donna Hodge Gormly and John Christian Laird. Anyone with information should 337-1535.

THE UNITED STATES ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

to discuss the

PROGRESS of the NL/TARACORP SUPERFUND CLEANUP in
GRANITE CITY, VENICE AND MADISON, IL.

The sessions will be held:

MONDAY, JUNE 24
2:00 P.M. TO 4:00 P.M.

MONDAY, JUNE 24
7:00 P.M. TO 9:00 P.M.

TUESDAY, JUNE 25
9:00 A.M. TO 11:00 A.M.

ALL SESSIONS WILL BE HELD IN WESLEY HALL (in the basement) AT THE NIEDERHINHAUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, 20TH AND DELMAR, GRANITE CITY.

EPA will not make any formal presentations but will be available to discuss site issues in an informal setting. Also, we want to talk to any homeowners who think that they may be eligible for the cleanup. Finally, because the City of Granite City has sent EPA a letter demanding that they cease and desist our cleanup in Granite City, we are taking public comment on that demand. Therefore, we will have a court reporter at these sessions to record comments.

For background information, please review site documents at the local information repository:

Horoscope

Sunday, June 16
The new moon in Gemini provides a safe shelter for all your secrets. People are keeping to themselves and finding inner strength. This may feel lightly unnatural, given that the social world is buzzing under the influence of so many planets in Gemini. But the concept of being alone in a crowd has new meaning and is liberating to those who dare to self-evaluate.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Love proves durable through the test of time. Participate in ethical discussions and your knowledge will be expanded. Bits of information seen on video will help a dilemma. A task is lifted from you permanently.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Mended hearts come back around to see if you are interested. Mechanical wizardry saves you in the afternoon. A naive onlooker needs your enlightenment. Satisfy an unusual but harmless craving just this once.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Introductions to friends of family produce employment leads. Minor adjustments to your spouse's view will lead to peace in the home. Refunds and rebates are on the way. Finally, you get answers from spiritual leaders.

CANCER (June 22-July 22).

Your initial feeling about a major purchase is correct. Sensitivity from elders heals you. Your complaints are justified, but follow with action. Neglected correspondence is tackled with vigor. Domestic help may be required.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). You are asked to play an important role in a wedding or religious service. The pressure is on to find the perfect date to a social event that could also advance your career. Make lists of immediate goals, then follow your plan.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 16). You surprise everyone by surpassing your expectations in business, finance and love. July is the month for completing projects and reaping financial rewards. Cupid strikes in August, when an intelligent beauty with a similar vocation enters your life. In September, expect remarkable progress in areas of personal improvement, such as changing habits and developing style. Your best signs for love are Cancer and Pisces.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). There are more financial possibilities available than just the ones you've seen so far—don't settle. You are favored by entertainers and hosts for your winning smile. Take advantage of discounts and coupons.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). A major goal is obtained. Someone you used to clash with finally admits to your irresistible charm. The easy way won't work with a broken piece of household machinery. Share a friend's excitement over a dream vacation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Presently, odd bits of information about a romantic interest don't add up, but the truth is being told. You are able to see the way to a larger financial opportunity. Action toward political change seems worthless but isn't.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). If there is a down side to success, you haven't seen it yet. An elderly friend gets an earful when a touchy subject brought up. Pet names might be sickening to others, but they mean everything to your sweetheart.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). A theatrical presentation makes you review your life. A brief association aids your business indirectly. A new athletic activity is easy to learn. Rebuild your relationship with a sibling by airing out past gripes.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Admit to weakness and you'll receive the means to make it disappear for good. A jolly woman seeking information has mystical powers. A low-profile associate is stricken with cupid's arrow—yours will be the next heart to leap.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Find the perfect hideaway to dive into literature and escape the noise. Your peaceful soul needs a rest from office gabbers. You are enjoying a new sweetheart more every time you meet.

This legendary band will make a rare appearance in the area from 5-8 p.m.

Polka festivals will also take center stage at the Ballroom a few times during the fall. On Sunday, Sept. 29, Don Lipovac and the Brass Notes Quartet will share the spotlight at the Ballroom, and on Saturday, Nov. 2, Don Lipovac and Roger Bright will share the bill.

Perennial favorite SH-BOOM will be here on Saturday, Aug. 31, and again on Saturday, Nov. 16, for a benefit dance for Community Memorial Hospital.

King of Hearts will take the stage Saturday, Sept. 28, and Jules Blattner will play for a Halloween party on Saturday, Oct. 26.

GTO will also perform for a benefit dance for the Staunton Volunteer Fire Department on Saturday, Nov. 30.

For a copy of that schedule, or to make reservations, call the Ballroom at (618) 635-3506.

Support groups have been in existence for many years. They can become a vital and positive influence in the lives of both patients and those who care about them. By providing information about their disease and how to live with it, support group members can create a better working partnership between patient and physician.

Memorial believes that support groups provide an opportunity for patients, along with their families and friends to discuss uncertainties and learn to place them in perspective. Better than any other technique, talking in a support group with people who share common problems, helps them understand that they are not alone.

The following is information about Memorial-sponsored support groups. For more information about these groups, call the Community Relations Department at 257-5649.

DIABETES
A mutual support group comprised of people with diabetes, their families and people who have had their lives affected by diabetes. Meetings are held on the fourth Monday of every month from 9 to 11 a.m. in the hospital auditorium.

FIBROMYALGIA SYNDROME
This support group is for people with fibromyalgia syndrome (FMS) and their families. FMS is considered to be a widespread musculoskeletal pain and fatigue disorder for which the cause is still unknown. Meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month from 7 to 9 p.m. in the auditorium.

HOPE
Hospital Oncology Patient and Family Education was formed to assist cancer patients, former cancer patients and people who have their lives affected by cancer. The HOPE group meets the last Thursday of each month at 1 p.m. in the auditorium.

MENDED HEARTS, INC. - BELLEVILLE CHAPTER
Mended Hearts is a volunteer organization consisting of people who have heart disease, their families, medical professionals and other interested people. Additionally, Mended Hearts members form a support group for one another, contributing emotional backing to recovering patients and their families. For more information, call Memorial's Social Service Department at 257-5420.

NU-VOICE
Conducted in cooperation with the American Cancer Society, the Nu-Voice Club is for laryngectomies - people who have had their voice boxes (larynxes) removed. Family members and friends are encouraged to attend. For more information about meeting dates and times, call the Speech Pathology Department at 257-5255.

Crucial plays helped Dupo reach state

Headlines and highlights just do not cut it. Such were my thoughts recently after following Dupo High School to the Class A boys state baseball championship — one in which the Tigers set a state tourney record by scoring 36 runs in three games.

Long before Dupo took an 11-0 lead in its championship victory over Mendota at Springfield, the Tigers caught my fancy with their 6-5 victory over Nashville in the title game of the Marissa Sectional.

Had it not been for three crucial plays in that game, there would have been no trip to state much less a state title for Dupo. And, I'm sure for those attending the game in Marissa there might have been more related to decisive.

Consider: With Nashville leading 5-4 in the top of the sixth inning, Dupo's Justin Chism reached on an infield error and Josh DeJarnette followed with a line drive to left, where Wes Browne (who got a late jump in the sunlight) failed to catch the ball and runners advanced to second and third.

Brian Cox then fell behind in the count to no balls, two strikes, fouled off two pitches and then hit a two-run single to left for the 5-5 lead preserved by the following:

With two outs in the bottom of the sixth, Nashville had the bases loaded and Chris Kimball was in his second inning of mound action after relieving Chism. Result? Strikeout and end of threat.

With one out in the seventh and a Nashville runner at first with one of 11 base on balls given the Hornets, a line drive to left center field was caught by Tigers center fielder Mark Birlew for the second out. On a no-ball, two-strike count, Dupo catcher Nate Dollins threw out the Nashville runner (Browne) to end the game.

"I wasn't looking forward to playing (Dave) Vieth's team," Dupo Coach Rich King was quoted as saying after the sectional final. "I'm just glad we don't have to play them again."

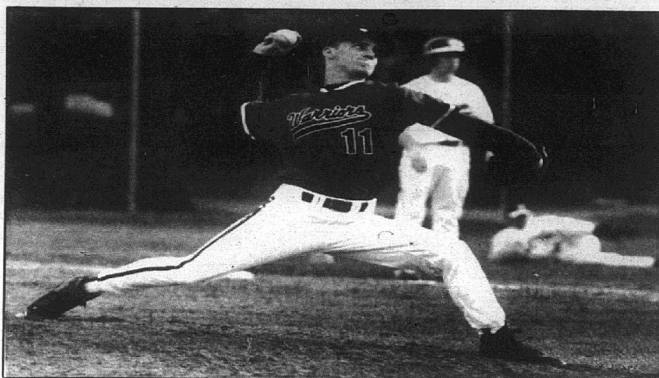

Apparently, the Dupo team enjoyed getting past Nashville. What followed were wins of 11-0 over Illiana Christian, 11-3 over Normal U. High and 14-10 over Mendota — victories of a far more convincing nature than the one-run decision at Marissa, where a champion may well have been crowned and created.

SWC STRENGTH: When Belleville East defeated Marion, 10-2, for the Central Class AA Sectional title at Kaskaskia College, the Lancers returned Belleville to a state tourney appearance list that was highlighted in recent years by East qualifying in 1985, '86 and '87, and Belleville West advancing in 1992-93.

One example of the strength of prep baseball in the Southwestern Illinois area is the fact that East did not win this spring's Southwestern Conference title — an honor taken for the second straight season by Collinsville.

Prior to the postseason, East coach Dennis Schutzenhofer admitted that he often looked at SWC championship banners for East earned under retired coach Larry Patton.

"I put a lot of pressure on myself living in his shadow," said Schutzenhofer. "I'm sure the energetic East coach would prefer the state trip to a league title, but the caliber of competition (the Lancers had nine losses and 24 wins prior to state) is bound to improve with the addition of Edwardsville in the SWC in 1997."

Tri-City pitcher Bill Niepert started the Triplets' season opener against Belleville on Wednesday. The Triplets are scheduled to host Jerseyville in a regularly scheduled game at 2 p.m. today, followed by a make-up game against Wood River.

Baker clinics to put players' skills to test

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

As usual, Granite City soccer coach Gene Baker will hold a soccer clinic this summer, but it won't be a "camp" as such. There will be a different twist this year.

The Granite City Soccer Dream Battery will be held July 29-30 at the Granite City Elks Soccer Fields, located on the campus of Belleville Area College in Granite City.

Besides Baker, the entire GCHS staff will be on hand to instruct, and other coaches from the area will likely be a part of the clinic.

"We're going to try to do something different this year," Baker said. "We'll have several skill clinics, and the kids will be able to see where they are compared to the others."

It's a different type of competition, but the kids will be able to see how their skills fit in with the different levels, from club soccer and high school up to college."

The battery is open to boys and girls ages 11-18, and the cost is $40 per person. Each contestant will receive a quality Lotto game ball. Boys will compete between 9-11:30 a.m. on Monday and Tuesday, while the girls will go from 1-3:30 p.m. both days.

The clinics will include instruction on throw-ins, juggling, flexibility, dribbling speed, kicking power, chipping, and heading.

Hilgards upend Triplets in opener

Belleville tops Tri-City 11-2

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

Things could have started on a brighter note this week, but at least the Tri-City season has begun.

After enduring several rain-outs prior to Wednesday, Post 113 finally got to suit up and play baseball. But the Triplets' rustiness showed in an 11-2 loss to Belleville in the District 22 opener for both teams.

"I think the layoff we'd had played a big part in it," said Triplets manager Doug Winfield. "We didn't play that well at all. We've got several kids who didn't play that much during the high school season, and some more who we've moved around to newer positions."

"It might take a while, but I think we'll be all right. We are a young team."

As was true for the high school Warriors, the same applies for the Triplets. Tri-City has but four seniors along with eight juniors and three sophomores on the roster.

And the Hilgards are regarded as a tough team, although they didn't exactly tear the cover off the ball Wednesday, either — despite the run production.

"Their pitching will be strong, but they didn't hit the ball that well. They got some big hits when they needed them, but it was mostly us more than them," Winfield said.

Neither team played well in the field, as each committed three errors. But the Hilgards made the Triplets pay more for their mistakes.

Young cast set to lead Paddlers

By Brian L. Jones
Correspondent

There is one reliable constant about the diving competition in the Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association:

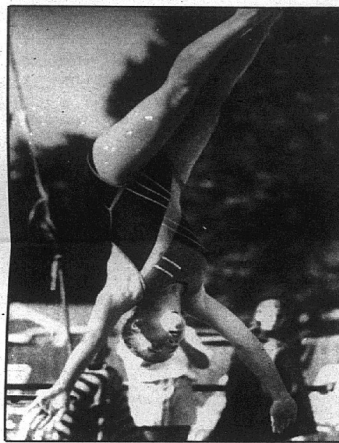

The Granite City Paddlers are always contenders for first place among the six league teams. The Paddlers, in fact, won the last tri-SWISA postseason team diving championships in 1994 and 1995.

While run-up Summersport probably has more experience this summer, the Paddlers are building for their third consecutive title run when the '96 championship tournament begins July 27.

"We've been first or second every year for about the last 15 years, so we've got a pretty consistent program going," said Paddlers diving coach Gayle McCormick, who enters her 23rd year of duty. The Paddlers swimming team, under coach Celeste Furmanek, finished second last year in the SWISA.

McCormick has more than 30 total boys and girls divers competing in the age divisions of 8-diver, 9-10, 11-12, 13-14 and 15-18. Aside from Summersport (Alton), the other SWISA diving team is the Paddlers.

(See PADDLERS, Page 3B)

Paddlers diver Bari Baum, one of the team's top returning performers, returns to compete in the 15-18 age division this year.

PSG fests still open for registration

Registration is still under way for the festival tournaments in the 13th Annual Prairie State Games, to be held June 28-30 in southwestern Illinois.

The four fests are tied in with the PSG finals competition in Illinois' largest amateur sports festival. Besides the fests, top-notch athletes throughout the state will compete in more than 20 Olympic-style sports.

The fests, open to Illinois residents or those attending school in Illinois, have competition in basketball, soccer, football and volleyball.

The Sixth Annual Hoops Fest is open to boys and girls in grades 5-11 as of the current school year. About 100 teams throughout the state competed in the three divisions — 5th-6th grade, 7th-8th and 9th-11th — in the Hoops Fest last year in gyms throughout the area.

The cost to participate is $115 per team without PSG souvenir T-shirts, and $165 with 10 PSG T-shirts.

The Sixth Annual Nike Soccer Fest is open to IYSA-sanctioned teams for boys and girls in U-9 through U-19 divisions. There is also a men's 30-andover division. The Soccer Fest will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The cost to compete is $250 per team as of June 1.

The Third Annual 7-on-7 football postseason championship will be held June 29 at SIUE. It is open to 8th through 11th graders as of the current school year.

The cost for the football competition is $120 per team without PSG T-shirts, and $190 with 15 T-shirts.

The first-ever Volley Fest will be held June 28-29 at Belleville West High School. Competition is open in two divisions: 7th-8th grade and 9th-10th grade. The entry fee is $100 per team without T-shirts and $150 with 10 PSG T-shirts.

All fest competitors will be

National Hall of Fame honors IHSA's Bundy

Ola M. Bundy, retiring IHSA assistant executive director, former NFL All-Pro Archie Griffin and Cris Collinsworth and Dick Groat, former National League MVP, are among the 14 individuals selected for induction into the 1996 class of the National High School Sports Hall of Fame.

The '96 class is the 14th group to be inducted into the Hall of Fame, which was founded in 1982 to honor high school athletes, coaches, contest officials and others for their achievements and accomplishments in prep athletics.

This year's class increases to 207 the number of individuals who have been inducted into the Hall of Fame.

Induction ceremonies for the '96 class will be held July 6 at the Innisbrook Resort in Tarpon Springs, Fla., in conjunction with the National Federation's 77th Annual Meeting.

Bundy becomes the 20th person from Illinois to be elected to the Hall of Fame, and the second female. The other is world track superstar Jackie Joyner-Kersey.

Bundy will retire June 30 after 29 years as a member of the IHSA administrative staff. Over the years, she earned the reputation as being the First Lady of America's girls' interschool athletics. She is the senior-ranking state association woman administrative officer in the United States.

"The election of Ola Bundy to the National High School Hall of Fame is a wonderful honor for her as a person, and a fitting tribute to the leadership and administrative skills of girls' athletics," said IHSA Executive Director Dave Fry.

Besides Bundy and Joyner-Kersey, other Illinois inductees of note include Collinsville basketball coach Vergil Fletcher, football great Red Grange and basketball star Quinn Buckner.

Inducted this decade were Granite City's two National Sports Hall of Fame delegates: Keith Parker (1990) and wrestling coach Bill (Red) Schmitt (1993).

•Triplets

And just as it was through much of the high school season, Tri-City didn't play well behind starting pitcher Billy Niepert.

"He said he was used to it," Winfield said of Niepert. Chris Johnston pitched a complete game to get the win for Belleville, striking out 10 while walking three and giving up three base hits.

In no way does the Tri-City schedule get any easier from this point. The Triplets were scheduled to play five games in three days over the weekend. On Friday, Tri-City was to play Collinsville, and on Saturday the team was to travel to Carlyle for a doubleheader. Post 113 will play host to Jerseyville at 2 p.m. today, then play its first make-up game afterward against Wood River.

"It's kind of hard to jump right in and play Belleville, then Collinsville," Winfield said. "That's starting out with a tough task. And I'm sure Carlyle will be tough, too. They have quite a coach there."

Winfield was referring to long-time Carlyle manager Voyt Lanier, 71, who is nearing the 1,000-win mark in his 33-year career.

"That's averaging over 30 wins a season for 33 years," Winfield marveled. "That's quite a streak."

The Triplets also have an away date at East St. Louis on Monday, and will visit Edwardsville on Tuesday. Edwardsville won district and regional titles just two years ago, but will be rebuilding this year after several high school players, such as Steffen Nicholson and Jim Dougherty, decided not to play summer ball.

Golf clinic to feature Blues' Hull

Brett Hull and Divot the Clown will be the featured attractions at the Coca-Cola Gateway PGA Clubs For Kids Clinic June 25 at Buder Park.

Performing a variety of golf-related stunts, Divot the Clown will serve as a warmup act for Hull, the acclaimed St. Louis Blues' forward and an accomplished golfer.

Hull will address the kids at the clinic, talking about golf and sportsmanship, and will answer questions from the participants.

The free clinic is one of the more anticipated events of the year for young golfers. All children ages 6-14 who attend will receive a free golf club, a free lesson from a Gateway PGA golf professional and a variety of other items.

The clinic is sponsored by Coca-Cola, the Gateway PGA, the Suburban Journals and the St. Louis County Department of Parks and Recreation.

Jay Randolph Jr., co-host of the "Fairways and Greens" show on KFNS-AM (590), will emcee the clinic. Fredbird is expected to roam the crowd, the Oscar Mayer company will provide hot dogs and Coca-Cola will serve refreshments.

Buder Park is near the intersection of Highway 141 and Interstate 44.

Check-in at the clinic begins at 9 a.m. Hull will start the clinic at 10 a.m., and individual instruction will be at 11 a.m. The Clubs for Kids Clinic is free, but pre-registration is needed. Youngsters can register by sending in the entry form in today's Journal. For more information, call the Gateway PGA at (314) 991-4096.

Whiplash? Auto Accident?

Americans are involved in 1 auto accident each 10 years, which may cause significant injury to nerves, muscles and ligaments, resulting in neck and back pain and stiffness, headache, pain or numbness in the arms or legs, weakness, etc.

Uncorrected whiplash or back injury may result in permanent damage such as arthritis, disc degeneration or neurological problems. It's wise to be examined for range of motion, neurological or postural changes or strength loss. Electronic range of motion and strength testing is the most accurate and accepted method of evaluating whiplash and other injury.

This state of the art diagnostic testing and treatment are available at the teams are Wedgewood (St. Louis County), Gaslight (Collinsville), Sunset Hills (Edwardsville) and Montclair (Edwardsville).

The Paddlers, who also went undefeated last summer in five dual meets, begin the regular season by hosting Sunset Hills at 5 p.m. Tuesday at Paddlers Pool. This is one of the rare times McCormick enters with even a minor uncertainty about the potential of her team.

"This is going to be an adjustment year for us, because we lost our top divers at the upper-level age group," McCormick said. "A few others who were pretty good chose not to return because they're involved in other sports. We've got a lot of experience at the mid-level range, but I'd have to call this a rebuilding year."

Gone are 1995 individual Paddlers champions Kevin Harris, Steve Logan and Casey Krinski, who have completed their age-limit eligibility. Harris, who played football at Granite City High School, won the boys 15-18 division title last summer with Logan placing second.

Logan just graduated from GCHS and will play college soccer. Krinski, who just completed her freshman year at the University of Missouri, won the girls 15-18 title last summer.

"Hopefully some of our divers moving up now to the 15-over level will help us fill those vacancies," McCormick said. "Maybe even some of the new divers — and we have many of those — will surprise us."

The Paddlers already are assured of collecting big points in the girls 15-18 division from Bart Baum.

"(Baum's) one of our top four girls returning," McCormick said. "The others are all in the 13-14 division: Laura Canada, Ashley Slover and Ali Krinski. They've been with us the longest and they're very good performers. Ashley Slover got first place last year and the others are always right there near the top."

The top incumbent among the boys is Michael Vivod in the 11-12 division. Vivod has won five consecutive SWISA titles and may yet have a promising future in the sport beyond summer competition.

"Four years ago, we had a diver named Jenny Baker who placed second at state in the IHSAA state meet," McCormick said. "She went on to earn a scholarship at the University of Kentucky. I always hold her up as the shining star for other kids in our program to try and follow. We have a number of kids who could go after it."

Joe Lehne also moves up to the boys 11-12 division and could challenge for a medal. The top Paddlers at the 9-10 level for girls are Hillary Slover, Allison Streid and Jill Ravanelli. Also a contender among the 11-12 girls is Elizabeth Dochwat.

Please do not send cash through the mail. Some ads require prepayment.

WRITE AN AD

Capture the reader's attention with larger headlines, bold type, and symbols. Tell them up front what you're selling or seeking. Describe what is unique about your item, adding details such as color and condition. Avoid abbreviations; they make your ad harder to read and therefore less effective. Include your phone number and the hours you are available. Always include the price. It will increase your response.

CANCEL AN AD

Deadlines for ad cancellation are identical to deadlines for ad placement. You may cancel an ad in person or over the phone. To cancel an ad, phone 877-7700.

On The LOUSE

By Rudy Glasier

Long Live The King

Hooray for Father's Day! Recognition and praise at last for the master of the manor.
 Fathers today have come a long way since the image portrayed by Robert Young in "Father Knows Best."
 Fathers today are hands-on Dads who do things. They cook. Clean. Even do dishes and diapers.
 Fathers today spend time with their families. No longer do they hide out at the office escaping both responsibility and work at home. They are conscientious and caring. And they show their feelings.
 Fathers today are more than the proverbial bread winners. They are a real part of the family not apart from it.
 Fathers today are touchable.
 Houses have paternalistic characteristics, too.
 Houses have walls that keep secrets. Like the ones you used to whisper in your Dad's ear when you were a child. Houses provide security. Ports in the storm where one can shut out the world and its woes. Safe harbors. Like a Father's hugs.
 Houses have a lovable sternness about them. Like Dads. Solid. Firm yet warm.
 Houses come in all sizes and shapes. So do Dads.
 Houses have peculiarities. Idiosyncrasies. Each one has them. Dads do, too. But that is what gives them both personality and character. What sets them apart from the mundane.
 Houses in general require minimum maintenance. All they usually need is a little loving care and attention and they behave beautifully. Same with Dads.
 Houses are softened by adding a feminine touch. What little girl can't work the same magic on a Dad.
 When it comes to a house, Mom is always queen of the castle. Dad sometimes has to take a back throne. This Father's Day make Dad feel like the wonderful king he is by giving him a special crown of love and an extra big hug of appreciation.
 And thank God for the privilege of having him in your life.
